

Abstract of the Disclosure

An applet latest version automatically setting system automatically sets the latest version of an 5 applet such as a Java applet, etc. at a request of a client. Specifically, it stores in a method of an applet a program to update a version, realizes the update of the version of an applet in a process of the applet itself, and can necessarily use an 10 applet of the latest version.
